EQ Resources is now the largest independent producer of tungsten concentrate outside China, and our future development is core to meeting global demand for secure supply of this critical and strategic mineral. Craig’s passion for operational excellence and strategic thinking will bring benefit to the entire leadership team and will assist in ensuring we are well placed to capitalise on market opportunities as they present over the next few years.”

Mr Bradshaw said: “I appreciate the confidence the board and major shareholders have shown in providing me the opportunity to take on the Managing Director role with EQ Resources. The company revisited operational strategies across its production sites over the past twelve months and has no doubt had its challenges. Whilst some challenges remain ahead of us, the foundation has been set for EQ Resources to become a very successful and globally significant tungsten mining company and emerge as the leading supplier of this critical and strategic mineral of global significance. I look forward to working with the management team, shareholders, and stakeholders to deliver on this potential.”
